Gene Blake to Head Fund Appeal For USO In Milam County

Gene F. Blake, manager Coca-Cola Bottling Co., today was named Milam County chairman for the fourth-coming fund appeal in Texas for the U. S. O.

Appointment of Mr. Blake to head the Milam county appeal was announced by R. R. Gilbert of Dallas, campaign chairman of the Texas United Defense Fund committee and Herman Yezak, District 62 chairman of the U. S. O. fund campaign.

In accepting the appointment as county chairman, Mr. Blake pointed out that Milam county has a total of 491 boys and girls serving in the armed forces, and that more young people will be called up from time to time as our defense program expands.

"One of our most important civic, patriotic and personal responsibilities is to these young people in uniform," Mr. Blake said. "Through the U. S. O. we have a means by which we can assist in keeping up the morale of these young men and women who are giving up so much to protect our freedom."

"Let's make certain that the fund appeal for $1,467 in Milam county is a success."

Efficient use of mechanized farm and home equipment depends to a great extent on their safe use. Crippling injuries or even fatalities can result from the careless use and handling of machinery and appliances.

He was instrumental in and encouraged farmers in terracing their lands as far back as the early twenties. This activity alone, has been among the chief means of preserving the soil. A farmer himself, he knew the extent of the great need of conservation practices in this county and his foresight as a leader in his field has led to the upbuilding of many, many thousands of acres of land in this part of the state.

Agriculturists from over the entire state have visited him at his office from time to time seeking valued information about soil needs and sound advice on soil improvements.

Many interesting factors toward the raising of the castor beans are due to be discussed. Farmers are urged to attend the meeting.

The Yoemen will go to Georgetown Friday night for the 23-AA District cage play-off. Both the Eagles and Yoemen won seven and lost only one district game this season. A tie necessitates a play-off.

The Yoemen's victory over the Taylor Ducks here Tuesday night guaranteed them a right to share temporarily in District 23-AA cage championship. The local boys routed the Ducks 54-37.

The game was neck and neck until about midway the third period when the Yoemen broke away and maintained the lead for the rest of the night. The half time score was all tied up at 21-21. Austin.—The Highway Department reported low bids totalling $4,478,257 on 24 projects today.

The largest was $811,606 by W. O. Pelphrey of Fort Worth for work on Highway 81 and State 36 in Beryl county. The job calls for 1.7 miles of grading, structures, flexible base, hot mix asphaltic concrete pavement and railroad overpass. It covers from 57th Street in Temple through the State 36 interchange.

Mrs. P. L. Bergum was a recent visitor here.

Gordon Turrentine, vice president of the South Texas National Bank of Houston, will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet and membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held on Tuesday, March 10, President Bowman said today.

The banquet will be held at the Methodist church and the food will be prepared by the Women's Society of Christian Service. A committee composed of Albert Collins, Rollan Carr and E. C. #### Milam County Lagging In Blood Program Quota; More Needed

Milam county's quota in the Red Cross Blood program is 532 pints. Of this amount 149 has been donated, leaving a balance of 383 pints yet to obtain. The unit received 65 in Cameron in December and 84 in Thorndale in January.

The unit is due to be in Rockdale some time this month and makes a return engagement in Cameron in March with possibly another location in the county.

Each county over the state has been given a quota and it was hoped that each county would exceed its quota. Blood is needed badly both at home and abroad in the war torn areas of Korea for our fighting men. The least any individual can do is to give a pint of blood. Are you rolling up your sleeve and giving a pint? If not, do so as soon as you have the chance.

Several Milam county people have received blood through this program in recent weeks. Others are eligible when in need. If Milam county is to continue to be on the approved list to receive blood when its people need it, more blood volunteer donors must give blood. Phone your local Red Cross and offer a pint of your blood.

Respond to this emergency appeal as all chapters have been alerted relying upon the cooperation of everyone concerned. Red Cross is confident that the people in turn will respond with blood so that within the near future new hope for children who are exposed to polio will be piling up in blood bottles across the nation and the pipeline to processing facilities will be kept full.

No large quantities of gamma globulin are now available and no one knows at present how much can be produced between now and summer. Processors have been asked to work at full capacity several days per week, 24 hours per day, to produce all the gamma globulin possible between now and summer and to prepare for 1954. Additional blood required will be collected. However, based on present production estimates, it would be impossible for the processing laboratories to produce the total quantity of gamma globulin needed in the epidemic areas for the 1953 polio season.

ONLY 140 FLU CASES REPORTED IN MILAM

Herald Reader Thinks Johnson Grass Farmer Should Stop Meddling

The letter in a recent issue of your paper, from the Johnson grass farmer in regard to our (U. S.) loans to Britain is informative and provocative.

One can cite many families that could use money procured under the same terms, but the writer of this letter should remember that this all comes under the head of "high finances" and that the plebian should not be concerned about it as he could not understand it. It is called "deficit financing" and the theory is that the more you owe the better you are off financially. Of course this will not work out in regard to the individual. To paraphrase an old law "what is sauce for the goose, is sauce for the gander."

So the Johnson grass farmer should go ahead with his peanut crop and not dabble in governmental affairs. If he persists in trying to understand it, the chances are, that he will wind up talking to himself.

M. W. Rogers, M. D. Rule, Texas.

Miller said that the Milam grand jury meets Tuesday, Feb. 24 and anyone wishing to present any problem to the jury are requested to contact him or Sheriff Carl Black prior to Feb. 24.

Poage Would Lose Milam, Gain Hill Under Proposal

Austin.—The proposed bill to redistrict Texas for congressional purposes would add one county and take another one out of U. S. Rep. Bob Poage's Central Texas district.

As introduced by State Rep. Harold Parish of Portland, it would remove Milam county from the district and place it on Congressman Olin Teague's district. Then it would take Hill county out of Teague's district and put it with Bell, Bosque, Coryell, McLennan and Falls counties, comprising Poage's district.

This would draw in the southern boundary of the district and extend it northward, but probably would not change the emphasis of the district's interest in legislation.

Texas got a 22nd congressman when the 1950 census figures were applied by congress to state representation in the U. S. House of Representatives. Since the 1951 legislative session failed to pass a congressional redistricting bill, a state-wide district was created and Martin Dies of Jasper was elected congressman-at-large.

Comments From A Pastor

The Church's Commission And Obligation

The late Mr. Waymack, a former member of the "Atomic Energy Board," was asked the following question "by two school children: 'We would like to ask your opinion on how you think a person can live happily in the 'Atomic Age.'"

Mr. Waymack's reply was: "I must say frankly, I cannot answer your question, and I don't think any person on earth can answer your question in any positive and confident way."

He further stated: "Your letter touches me very deeply. I shall show it to the other four members of the commission. Your letter will be felt and remembered as a challenge to the commission. We do not have the answer to your question but indeed we must find it. It was with boys and girls like you in mind that Congress set up this commission."

Mr. Waymack also stated: "I say that we hope and pray to be able to do with a little wisdom and much devotion what we have the obligation to do for you."

The "Atomic Energy Board" has been set up by Congress, and was commissioned and obligated not only in the interest of the school children of our land but in the interest of every citizen of our country, and of the world.

Mr. Waymack acknowledged that he did not have the answer to their all-important question. He also acknowledged that they must do something about it and that the commission must find the answer to the question. A tremendous responsibility for the commission.

To this Commission, Congress says, "You find a way." Necessity is laid upon them. If they fail, what may be the result?

God commissioned Moses, Jonah, John the Baptist, and many others. The welfare of those to whom they ministered depended on the faithful discharge of the obligation that their commission demanded.

Jesus was commissioned by His Father and assumed all the obligations that His commission included. He was made responsible for the sins of the world. "The Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all." Isaiah 53:6. He came to bring "Peace on Earth and good will to men."

When Jesus was ready to return to the Father, after he had fulfilled His obligation to this world, the ministry of the gospel fell upon the church. He said: "Go preach the gospel to every creature." So we, the church have a great commission and responsibility to a world in sin and darkness.

Mr. Waymack did not have the answer to the school children's questions as to how they could live happily in this Atomic Age. But we know the answer.

Paul was called, commissioned, and given a great responsibility as recorded by his own words in Acts 26: 16 to 18. Twenty four years later, Paul, speaking concerning his gospel ministry said: "Necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me if I preach not the gospel."

Mr. Waymack did not know how to answer the school children's question but he realized the great responsibility as a result of the letter written. But we know the answer, and as a church and every individual christian, are obligated not only to every school boy and girl, but to every unsaved human being to assure them that salvation from all sin through our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ will enable them to live happily in an Atomic Age and on throughout the eternal ages to come.

May we say with Paul, necessity laid upon us, and woe be unto us if we preach not the gospel to every creature.

C. F. Robinson.

SERMONETTE

There was once a man who wanted to know how to juggle. So he took three oranges and practiced for half an hour. Not once in the half hour did he catch three throws of the oranges in succession. He had not found out from one who knew how to juggle what the technique must be. He gave up learning how to juggle.

There was once a man who wanted to paint. The application of a few daubs of oil on canvas seemed a simple matter to him. He tried it for an afternoon, and he gave up in disgust at the results. He had consulted no one who knew how to paint in what the technique of painting was.

There have been many people who wanted to know how to pray. They have tried for short times, and because they did not achieve what they saw in others who had achieved, they gave up in disgust. They consulted no one who knew how to pray in what the technique of prayer was.

Unfortunately, all three of the above kinds of persons set their own standard of what they wanted to do, and when there was not immediate success in becoming what they pictured themselves, they gave up. They did not want to juggle, to paint, or to pray, badly enough to work for the achievement. They wanted the goal gained, without having to go the road of arduous toil that it takes to learn to do either juggling or painting. We all feel that the first two of these were silly to expect to be able to paint or juggle in half an hour's time.

It is also foolish to think that we can have a successful prayer life without many years of failure, many dependencies, and long, long hours of work. We must not give up.

Rev. Jim McKeown

Texas Enlistments, Draftees Percentage Up In January

Austin.—Draft and reported enlistments into all the armed services from Texas during January exceeded reported separations by 17 per cent, Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, said Monday.

The state Selective Service director said his monthly report to national draft headquarters, mailed over the week end, showed that 3,106 Texans were drafted for the Army in January.

Individual reports of enlistment received by state draft headquarters from the armed services totaled 2,848 for January, making a total of 5,954 men reported as entering the different services by draft and enlistment.

During the same period, individual reports of separation of Texans from all services totaled 4,992. These reports of separation and enlistment are forwarded by all armed services to state draft headquarters. The reports cover both men registered with Selective Service and those not registered.

The Texas draft supplied only men for the Army during January. The Air Force led in reported enlistment of Texans during this month, with the Army second.

Rev. J. Parker Love Writes From Kentucky

Our mail this week brought one of those notes we are always glad to have. This one comes from Rev. J. P. Love of Crestwood, Ky., where he and Mrs. Love are making their home.

Rev. Love says that Mrs. Love has completely recovered from her serious illness, which now gives him time to take services in the Diocese when he is needed.

Rev. Love served more than 20 years here and in Rockdale and Hearne as a minister. He and Mrs. Love were both active in civic organizations, and through their work and friendship have endeared themselves to many, many people in and around Cameron. Rev. ## Fraternal Lodge Buys Professional Building In Temple

The SPJST fraternal lodge signed a contract Saturday for purchase of the Professional Building in Temple as its state headquarters.

One floor and half of the basement of the six-story building, one of Temple's largest office structures, will be used to house state offices of the organization, according to Frank Matush, Temple leader in the SPJST who has worked for 16 years to bring the headquarters to Temple.

SPJST headquarters are now at Fayetteville, near LaGrange. The move to Temple will take place in about two months, Mr. Matush said, and "several families" will become new residents.

SPJST plans call for modernizing the building and completely air conditioning it. This work is scheduled to get under way as soon as possible.

In Temple Saturday to take part in the contract signing were the state SPJST President Ed Marek, who is a native of the Meeks community; John Chupik, lodge secretary, and Adolph Pavlicek of Houston, lodge attorney.

Red Cross, NFIP Collaborating In Fight Against Polio

This year the nation's two largest voluntary organizations, the American Red Cross through its Blood program and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis through its March of Dimes, are working shoulder to shoulder in the fight against poliomyelitis. Both programs deserve the support of those who would aid in the control of this great worldwide crippler.

The actual processing of whole blood or dried plasma into gamma globulin is a long, painstaking task requiring great technical skill and research knowledge. Usually it takes about three months from the time whole blood reaches the laboratory before it can be fractionated into immune serum globulin and made available for medicinal purposes. In addition to its newly-discovered use in preventing paralysis from poliomyelitis, it is a valuable antibody in combatting measles and infectious hepatitis.

While no exact estimate is possible at this time, it is not believed possible for the laboratories to produce nearly enough gamma globulin for protecting 2,000,000 children in epidemic areas, not to mention millions of children in non-epidemic areas but where parents will be just as eager to protect their children who have been exposed to polio. The Red Cross has made it clear that while it will be responsible for collecting blood, it will not be the agency responsible for allocating and distributing gamma globulin. Another agency will be designated for this purpose by the ODM.

Grow a big garden in 1953. It's now time in most sections of the state to prepare the soil for planting and in the southern areas to plant the hardier type vegetables.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER SAYS DORP IN CATTLE PRICES NOTHING COMPARED WITH DROP IN FISHING

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm in the Marlow community has run across some odd news, his letter this week reveals.
Dear editor:

I've been readin lots in the news-papers lately about the big prob-lem confrontin President Eisen-hower, and up on the top of the list of course, is the serious prob-lem of fallin farm prices, espe-cially cattle prices.

But I was out here on my John-son grass farm the other after-noon when I noticed a newspaper caught in the branches of a tree and while I was walkin toward it I got to specula-tin if I could reach it without tiptoein, there are some people who would even climb a tree to get hold of a newspaper, others who would even pay out hard-earned money to subscribe to one, but I like to keep things in bal-ance and am perfectly willin to read nearly any paper if it's in easy access and I can get hold of it without goin to any trouble, and when I found out it was in arm's reach and not caught too fast I pulled it down and rested awhile in the sun and fell to readin it.

I can now announce President Eisenhower is in for more trouble than he ever suspected. Not only are cattle prices and farm prices fallin, not only is the world situa-tion tense and nerve-wrackin, not only are taxes from a previous ad-ministration high and the budget unbalanced and the solutions al-most ungraspable, but accordin to this newspaper the fishin problem has gotten critical.

An expert has made a national survey and discovered that the "in-crease in fishing pressure has brought a decrease in the average catch per fishing trip." In fact, the expert has found, "the aver-age catch nationally has dropped to well below one fish per hour."

I do not know how the expert arrived at his figures, I know he didn't ask me how my luck has been, and while I personally have never fished by the hour or gauged my success by the number of fish I caught, personally any fishin trip is successful if it doesn't turn cold or rainy at the time; with a tractor standin ready, catchin fish is one of the poorest ways I know of judgin the worth of goin fishin, the same as where you go is not nearly as important as just goin when you're tryin to get out of earshot of a naggin woman; at any rate, to get on, you can see havin this drop in the number of fish bein caught thrown in Eisen-hower's lap right on top of fallin cattle prices, fallin cotton prices, fallin wheat prices, etc., is more than he's entitled to receive. Per-sonally, my sympathies are with him. He didn't have a thing to do with it or the fallin prices either and he is entitled to a fair chance.

A President can survive the wrath of the cattlemen, maybe the

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

Austin.—R. L. Phinney, direc-tor of Internal Revenue, said to-day that gain from the sale or ex-change of a personal residents in 1952 may not be taxable for in-come tax purposes.

If a taxpayer sold or exchanged his old residence in 1952, realiz-ing a profit on the sale or ex-change, and within one year be-fore or after the date of sale, he bought or acquired a new residence—and used it as his principal resi-dence within one year from the date of sale of the old residence—then any gain from sale of the old residence exceeds the cost of the new residence.

Phinney explained that this means the taxpayer who meets the one-year time qualification and who paid as much for the new resi-dence as he sold the old one for, will not be taxed for gain on the sale of the old residence.

If a taxpayer sells his old resi-dence at a gain, and builds or con-structs a new residence, construction on the new residence must be started within one year from the date of sale of the old residence, and the new residence must be completed and used as a new resi-dence within 18 months after the sale of the old residence to quali-fy.

However, Phinney reminds that the sale of your old residence and any profit realized must be report-ed on the income tax return re-gardless of whether the profit is taxable or not.

price will go back up next month, but you get the fishermen upset and there are shoals ahead. What this country needs is fewer ex-perts, or experts who know how to keep their mouth shut. I'll tell President Eisenhower right here, I don't care how far down the catch per hour drops, he can count on me and Herbert Hoover and Buddy Weise to keep right on fishin.

Yours faithfully,

Houston OPS Office To Close March 15; Controls to be Lifted

The Houston District Office of Price Stabilization, along with similar offices in other parts of the country, will close March 15, Tom J. Murray, acting director of the Houston OPS said he had been informed by B. Frank White, re-gional director at Dallas.

Murray said that all local ac-tivity of the price stabilization agency except enforcement would cease in mid-March. Enforcement personnel, under the supervision of Rex L. Poston, will continue their operations approximately two weeks after the office in order to clean up their docket, Mr. Mur-ray explained.

Murray said that the 29 Houston OPS staff members Mon-day will receive notices of ter-mination of service. This number includes nine persons in the en-forcement branch.

The regional director told Murray that this action is based on the assumption that basic com-modities over which OPS have con-trol will be decontrolled by March 15.

Any commodities remaining un-der price control after the mid-March date will be administered by the regional OPS office at Dallas, the director said.

The regional staff will be dras-tically reduced also on March 15, Murray was informed.

District OPS offices in the Southwest region beside Houston are located at San Antonio, Dallas, Oklahoma City, New Orleans and Little Rock, Ark.

Teamwork . . . and the Industrial Growth of the great Southwest

During the eleven year span from 1939 to 1950, the industrial growth of the territory served by SOUTHERN PACIFIC increased 372%. The rest of the nation combined showed an industrial increase of only 257% during the same period.

This amazing lead of 115% over all other states didn't just happen. It was the result of long-range planning, of coordination of men and methods and machines, of TEAMWORK between production and transportation . . . for one cannot survive without the other, and neither can grow alone.

Since the humble beginning of its oldest segment more than 100 years ago, the group of rail lines now forming SOUTHERN PACIFIC has played an important part in the Great Southwest industrial development. Throughout all the vast territory it serves, SOUTHERN PACIFIC encourages industry to move in, helps it get settled, helps it expand and moves its goods and personnel in all directions. That this TEAMWORK "pays off" is made manifest by the fact that, over the past seven years, an average of two new industries per calendar day have been located along SOUTHERN PACIFIC'S 13,700 miles of trackage!

Ever alert to its responsibility, SOUTHERN PACIFIC meets shipping and transportation re-quirements of the Golden Empire with a service at the highest level of dependability and efficiency.

We can help you. If you plan to expand in our territory, we invite you to use SP's confidential industrial service. Just write F. L. Gordon, Freight Traffic Manager, Southern Pacific, 913 Franklin Avenue, Houston 1, Texas.

TEXAN PARADE

By ROSS PHARES

IRA ATEN WAS FIRE CHIEF AND PEACE OFFICER

In 1895 the great XIT ranch was in desperate straits, caused by prairie fires and cattle rustlers. In November, 1894, a fire burned a strip across the plains 150 miles long by sixty wide. The company had to move its plains cattle north to the Canadian River breaks. Even so, thousands of cattle starved to death that winter. Rustlers were raiding the property from every direction.

At this critical time, someone suggested that if there was a man in Texas who could put a stop to these menaces it was Ira Aten, sheriff of Castro County, and one time Ranger. So desperate were the needs of the company officials that they made a proposition interesting enough to induce Aten to resign as sheriff and go to work for the XIT outfit as firefighter and peace officer.

Aten was beginning to tire of being sheriff because, as he related, after he trailed a bunch of stolen cattle to Indian territory, brought back 300 head and had the thieves sent to the penitentiary, "the sheriff's office was a peaceful place."

The first summer, when the rains softened the ground enough to plow, Aten made fire guards, by plowing two strips of six furrows with a twelve inch plow 200 feet apart. That fall when the grass became dry the strips between the furrows were burned. A hundred and fifty miles of guards were plowed that summer.

When the fires broke out Aten loaded his "firewagon" with "all the grub at hand . . . coffee and coffee pot, a barrel of water, and six heavy brooms," and went to the scene with all available help. A fire drag was made by killing a yearling and cutting it in half. The hide was removed from one half in order to allow it to drag behind to smother sparks left by the beef half. The head was cut off. A rope was tied to a forefoot and another to a hindfoot. A cowboy on either side tied a rope to a saddle horn, and in this fashion dragged the carcass down the line of fire to smother the flames.

Two men with brooms or saddle blankets followed the beef drag a hundred yards back to smother sparks and "kick in the smoldering cow chips."

In time, Aten improved on the beef drag by devising a net, six by eight feet, made of chains with meshes six inches square. Two wet cowhides were put over the chain drag to smother the flame.

After one particularly bad fire, Aten, while riding along the New Mexico fence line, found two sets of horse tracks leading from the ranch. He observed that one horse had been shod all around with heels and toes, and there were only three nails on one side of the right hind foot. The other horse was shod only on the front feet with smooth shoes.

Aten followed the tracks to the vicinity of Endee, New Mexico. He made inquiries in Endee and learned that a certain wild mustang catcher and a boy the day before had headed for the vicinity of the XIT where the man had a small head of stock. This mustanger a few months before has asked Aten's permission to catch wild horses in the XIT pastures and had been refused.

While riding back toward Texas Aten met two horsemen, who whirled and dashed down a draw at his approach. He recognized them as the two men who he had been told had left Endee for Texas. He dismounted, examined the tracks, and found that they were the same that had come through his fence the day of the fire.

Aten faced a problem. If he accused the men without definite proof, he would only anger them and most likely cause them to set more fires to his pastures. As he rode on trying to decide upon a course of action, he looked up and saw that his winter bull pasture was on fire.

After fighting the fire all night, Aten rested a day and armed with his six-shooter and light saddle gun, took the trail of the men he felt certain had set the two fires. For a month he dropped in at camps and ranches in New Mexico and Texas where he thought the men might hang out.

Aten did not ask any questions. He just looked and listened. After a while he learned that the man had hurriedly sold his stock and left for Colorado. He had taken the timely advice of his neighbors, that he wasn't likely to live long in that country with Ira Aten on his trail.

After that there were no more fires on the ranch that could not be accounted for.

Finally it became so quiet that

The County Farm Bureau

The county Farm Bureau generally is the basic administrative unit of the organization.

The individual farmer joins a county Farm Bureau and pays the required membership fee. The largest portion of that fee usually remains in the treasury of the county organization for its county work. A smaller portion goes to the state Farm Bureau, and 50 cents goes to the national federation out of the funds forwarded to the state office.

Nothing is more fundamental in building and maintaining membership within the county organization than building and carrying out an effective program of service adapted to the needs of the farmers of the county.

The county organization must also accept and fulfill the major responsibility for obtaining members and maintaining the individual membership. To enable them to do this and keep the organization democratic, the Farm Bureau plan wisely permits the major portion of the membership fee to remain in the county to carry on the work in the county.

The county Farm Bureau is responsible for the Farm Bureau work in its county. It cooperates with the Extension Service in planning and carrying out a county-wide program of service to meet the needs of the farmers of that county; it keeps records of its activities; conducts membership campaigns; collects dues, and provides for committees and other administrative machinery to carry on the work.

The county Farm Bureau represents the interests of all its members in the state organization. Each county is entitled to representation in the state organization in matters of policy, planning and activities. In turn, the state organization represents the county units and the membership of the entire state in the national federation. Each state is entitled, on the basis of its total paid-up membership, to seat delegates at the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Here national policies are determined and programs of work outlined.

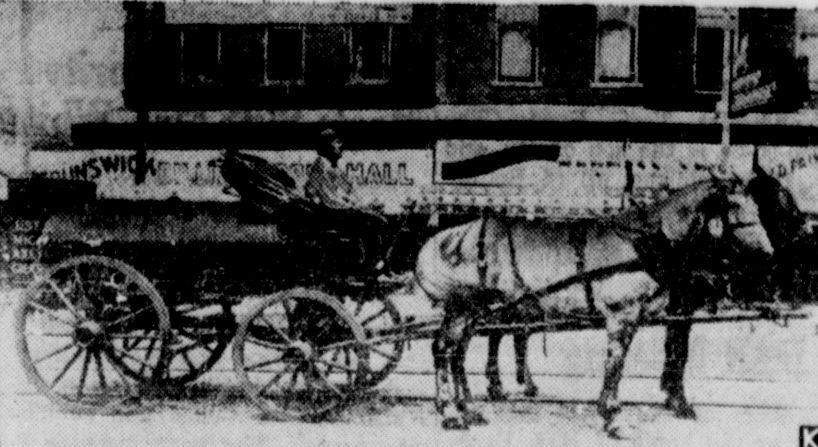

Thus we see that the organization is the essence of democracy. The organization as a whole is vastly more powerful than the size of the membership would indicate, for the reason that there is little dead timber in it. There are few farmers who will pay $5.00 to $15.00 a year to belong to an organization unless they are vitally interested in it.

Aten's two ex-ranger assistants quit for lack of excitement. During the ten years that Aten rode the range for the XIT he never had a man arrested. As he expressed it: "What chance would a great cattle corporation have to convict a man for cattle stealing in Western Texas in those days? My time was too valuable to fool with the courts. Besides arguments in court and in grandjuries often brought on a fight in which somebody would get killed."

How Your Navy Fights Fire

This roaring fire in a gasoline-doused paint locker is one of hundreds set yearly and promptly extinguished at the U.S. Navy's Fire Fighting School at Philadelphia. In this case, the Navy instructor quelled the blaze with a Kidde 20-pound Dry Chemical portable extinguisher in 7 seconds.

A GREAT CHANGE—Modern tank trucks have come a long way from the days of not so long ago when kerosene was the only major oil product and was peddled from door-to-door.

Gen-Tex Water Group To Finance Fight To Protect Water Rights

The newly-formed Central Texas Water Conservation Association is working to raise $5,000 to finance its fight to make sure the interests of Central Texas farmers, cities and industry are protected in any law the Legislature might pass on water rights.

The fund-raising plans calls for the board of directors to spearhead the drive. Each of the 13 counties in the association will have two directors on the board. These directors will lead in collection of funds in their counties. A number of pledges, some for as high as $100 have already been made.

The money will be spent primarily to keep a representative of the association in Austin to work with the Legislature when its action starts on water rights.

Frank Brooks, Waco lawyer and executive-secretary of the association, will go to Austin to work for the group.

President of the association is Hilton Howell, Waco lawyer. Vice-president is Charles Stefano of Hearne.

The purpose of the organization, as voted at the organization meeting, is: to promote the conservation and utilization of water dedicated to these principles, (1) maximum economic improvement of floodwaters, (2) complete utilization of all water, (3) protection of all riparian rights and the rights of capture as it applies to underground water, (4) the protection of all present and future small users of both surface and underground water. (Riparian rights are the rights of people living on a stream to use water from it.)

Counties represented in the association are Bell, Bosque, Brazos, Burleson, Coryell, Falls, Grimes, Hill, Limestone, McLennan, Milam, Robertson and Washington.

A. H. Baskin Jr., and L. G. Smith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce attended the meeting from Cameron.

232 Head of Cattle Sold Saturday; Market Stronger

Two hundred and thirty-two head of cattle were sold here Saturday at the Milam County Livestock Commission Company, Finley Blackwell, manager, reports. Due to the rainy weather this figure is some 75 shy of last week's report.

All classes of cattle were from one to two cents a pound higher than the previous week. Fat calves sold as high as 24.50 per hundred; strong demand for stocker kind with the local market in line with all major markets.

Benson Says Farmers Must Depend Less Upon Subsidies

Washington.—Secretary of Agriculture Benson is putting U. S. farmers on notice that they must depend more upon themselves than upon government subsidies in the future.

"Price supports should provide insurance against disaster," Benson said. "These that encourage uneconomic production, resulting in continuing heavy surpluses and subsidies, should be avoided."

Addressing some 3,000 farmers of the Central Livestock Association here last night, Benson promised that farm support program would be carried out faithfully by the new administration. He said, "There will be no blanket promises to embark on actions which we have neither the authority to invoke nor the means to implement."

"Inefficiency," he said, "should not be subsidized in agriculture or any other economy, and relief programs should be operated as such. Too many Americans are calling on Washington to do for them what they should be willing to do for themselves."

The secretary said that declining cattle prices had been in effect when he came into office in January. He called the situation an "unorderly and temporary adjustment" resulting from the big jump in numbers of cattle the past few years.

Benson said he would confer with dairymen next Tuesday relative to price support for butter. The present 90 per cent prop ends March 31.

Local Boy's Angus Steers Win at Houston Show

Jim Matyastik of Cameron, Texas was awarded 8th and 31st place for his Angus steer entries in the 1953 Houston Fat Stock Show. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Matyastik of Cameron. He is a member of the Yee High FFA Chapter.

American Farm Bureau Federation History

The history of the development of Farm Bureau organization is so interwoven with the history of the development of the extension service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the state colleges of agriculture, the two institutions have so reacted on each other, that it is impossible to sketch the development of one with mention of the other. Important dates in the development of both are given in the following paragraphs with some idea of the fundamental relationship.

Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, outstanding southern agriculturist, conceived an idea in 1902 of combating the menace of the cotton boll weevil by instructing cotton planters through demonstrations conducted by trained demonstrators. From this practice the county agent system was later evolved and Smith County, Texas, had the honor of appointing the first county agent W. G. Stallings, in 1906. Gradually the county agent system spread throughout the South.

Centex Scouts Lead Three States

The nine-county Heart O' Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America, topped the other 35 councils in three-state Scout Region 9 in net membership gain during 1952, Pat Taggart, new council president, announced Thursday morning.

Three years ago, the council ranked 36th, or last in net gain in membership. Last year, it had climbed to fifth place.

This is the first time the council has ranked at the top in membership increase, according to past records at council headquarters in the Amicable Building.

Scout officials here were informed of the new record by the Region 9 office in Dallas. Region 9 includes all Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico Scout councils.

Membership in the Heart Council moved from 3,796 registered boys on Jan. 1, 1952 to 4,583 on Dec. 31, 1952 for a net gain of 21.1 per cent in membership. Registered leaders moved from 1,428 on Jan. 1 to 1,798 on Dec. 31, 1952.

Grand total membership of boys and leaders was 6,381 on Dec. 31, 1952, compared with 5,224 on Jan. 1, 1952.

"This is indeed grand news to receive during Boy Scout Anniversary Week," Taggart, elected president of the council at the annual meeting in December said. The record is due to untiring effort of the volunteer leaders of the council.

H. H. Coffield of Rockdale and a board member of the Heart Council is Region 9 chairman.

Each year nearly 10,000 Boy Scouts earn the coveted Eagle Scout rank.

Yoemen Bombard Panthers 79-39 In Cage Conference Game Here Friday

After a tight first quarter, the Yoemen broke away to run up their largest score of the season Friday night when they bombarded the Black Panthers of Rosebud 79-39.

It was a skill battle in the initial quarter with the lead changing every few seconds. The Yoemen started landing some lofty shots about midway the second period and were not in a strain, apparently, the rest of the game. The Yoemen were especially good on the fast break-aways Friday night.

Breaking all previous records for the Yoemen this season, Roman Marek stole the ball at many exciting moments and accounted for almost one-third of the Yoemen points. He got 25. Bobby Biskup was close behind with 18 to his credit; Lincoln Mondrik and Ray Thompson got 10 each and Richard Wilkerson landed nine.

High pointers for the Black Panthers were Lloyd Wasserman with 17 and Paul Zipperlin with 13. Forty-five fouls occurred in the game, 27 by the Yoemen. The half time score was 42-26.

In the B game the Yoets whizzed to a quick 33-19 victory. W. K.

Leonard led with 7 points; Dean Weathersby got 6. Joe Haas for the Cats got six. The Yoets were never behind in their game.

One more district game for the Yoemen is on schedule for the season. The Taylor Ducks are due here for a game next Tuesday. The Georgetown Eagles who are tied for the lead in district with the Yoemen meet Rosebud at Rosebud the same night.

In the event both the Yoemen and Eagles win their games, a play-off for district championship will be necessary.

Yoemen Run Wild To Swamp Tigers In Third Period

The Yoemen swamped Belton 69-36 Tuesday night for their second defeat of the season over the Tigers. The bombarding Yoemen started in the initial quarter with the scoring and led at the halftime 37-27.

Bobby Biskup paced the way for the Yoemen with 23 points, the highest mark for any Yoeman in any one game this season. Roman Marek had scored 21 points in two previous games. He got 18 for the night. Ray Thompson landed

16. Richard Wilkerson got only six. High point men for the Tigers were Penny Vann with 12; Earl Wayne Miller with 9 and Joe Baker with six.

Lincoln Mondrik played a good defensive game along with other Yoemen. Most of the second string played the latter part of the game.

In the B game the Yoets took the opener by a count of 34-26. They were also in the lead at the half 19-15. Dean Weathersby was on top in the scoring department with 11. W. K. Leonard and Joseph Michalka got seven each. Joe Atkinson, forward for the Belton Bs landed eight for the losers.

MILAM SCHOOLS—

the public education system in local communities and in the State of Texas.

WHEREAS: Cooperation between school patrons and school personnel depends on understanding. Every citizen should keep himself continually acquainted with the changing educational needs of the students, and with other problems that confront school officials and teachers. We consider it most important that the people and the schools work together to maintain constant evidence that Texas Public Schools are Democracy in Action.

RESOLVED: That members of the State Board of Education hereby designate the week of March 1 through 7, 1953, as Public Schools Week in Texas, and urge every citizen to visit a public school during this period in order that they may become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of the state's public schools.

That the Texas Education agency staff encourage local school officials and teachers to cooperate with the citizens, parent-teacher associations, and other organizations to promote Public Schools Week in Texas.

That local school officials and teachers be further encouraged to invite citizens to visit classrooms, and to plan programs that will give both pupils and parents a better understanding of the public schools.

Capital Doings In The House of Representatives By HERMAN YEZAK

The committee on congressional districts has several proposals before it that would change the present congressional districts by dividing the state into new districts based on equitable population distribution. Texas was forced to elect a congressman-at-large at the last election and the Legislature will attempt to divide the state into 23 districts in order to absorb the congressman Texas gained after the 1950 Federal Census.

There are two general trends of thought on the amount that the salary of teachers should be raised. The teaching profession is strongly advocating an annual six hundred dollar raise to the present minimum base pay. The other pay raise plan is a cost-of-living index plan coupled with a stipulation that local school districts would assume a part of the cost in salary increases. Legislators are viewing both plans and looking forward to the plan that will first receive committee approval. This is one of the major legislative projects pushed by the teaching profession since the passage of the Gilmer-Aikin laws four years ago.

A bill lowering the six year age limit of children from September 1 to October 1 for the purpose of entering school free from tuition anytime in September was halted in committee after school administrators appeared before a committee objecting to such a change.

A sub-committee of the appropriations committee is conducting hearings with state college administrators on their appropriation requests and such hearings have been tentatively scheduled for state departments and agencies.

The introduction of bills has continued at an even pace and most of the time of legislators is devoted to committee hearings.

Texas farmers are now using 270,000 farm tractors to provide most of the power required for carrying on their many and varied farming operations. More than two and a half million farm implements are used as attachments.
